PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I'm a Node.js backend developer with six years building APIs and microservices for Australian tech companies. I'm strong in Express, NestJS, PostgreSQL, and Redis. I've designed REST and GraphQL APIs consumed by mobile and web frontends, set up CI/CD pipelines in GitHub Actions, and optimised slow queries that were killing production performance. I write clean, well-tested code and I'm comfortable discussing architecture trade-offs with senior engineers.
